Local school improvement connected to district's strategic direction

Gwinnett County Public Schools' accountability system for improving schools is called the Results-Based Evaluation System (RBES). RBES fairly and systematically measures a school's progress, providing a process that clearly communicates expectations; reviews, monitors, and supports school performance; and evaluates that performance. This report reflects achievement data and state data reporting from the 2016–17 school year, as well as consolidated information on the school's effectiveness, based on multiple measures and student characteristics. Using the data in this report, school administrators, teachers, and parent advisory groups developed this year's Local School Plans for Improvement (LSPI) which outline our improvement goals and guide the work we will do throughout the 2017–18 school year to support student learning. These improvement plans are connected to the school district's strategic direction and our core business of teaching and learning. Find our school's LSPI on the website. The North Gwinnett school council and school leaders collaborated on the highlights in this accountability report, which also serves as the school's annual report.

The School Effect: Putting North Gwinnett High School's CCRPI score in context

The “school effect”—the impact of what happens in the classroom—acknowledges the work of our faculty and staff in meeting our students where they are academically, and helping them to make progress, no matter where they start. Schools all strive to add value to a student's education from year-to-year, causing students to make academic gains. One way to measure effectiveness in educating all students is to review a school's score on Georgia's College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI), adjusting for the level of poverty at the school, to see the school effect on students' academic growth.

2016–17 Results: College-Admissions Tests

Students are encouraged to take one or both of the college-admissions tests that most colleges and universities require for admissions. The two tests— the SAT and the ACT— both assess college-readiness in language arts/reading and mathematics, with a science section on the ACT. Both the SAT and the ACT also have an optional essay component.

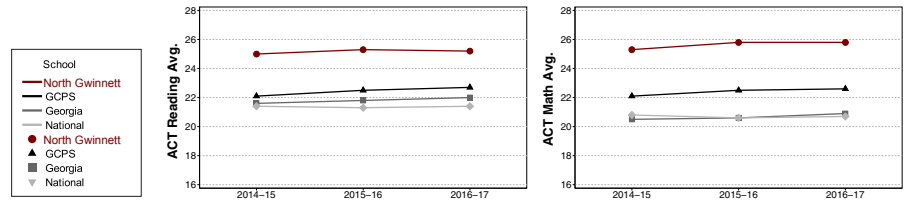

This is the first year of reporting for the redesigned SAT which better reflects what students are learning in class, including evidence-based reading, writing, and analysis across subject areas. In the new SAT, students are asked to apply their reading, writing, language, and math skills to answer questions in science and social studies contexts. In addition, the redesigned SAT Suite of Assessments makes it easier to help students navigate a path from high school through college and career. (Gwinnett students take two other tests in the SAT Suite, the PSAT 8/9 in 8th grade and the PSAT/NMSQT in 10th grade.) The ACT was most recently redesigned in 2015.

2016–17 Results: High School Gateway Assessment

Gwinnett students must pass the school system's High School Gateway Assessment as a requirement for earning a regular diploma. Typically given in the 10th grade, the Gateway measures students' ability to write effectively about what they have learned in three courses taken in the first years of high school— Biology, Chemistry, and World History. Students write an essay on each topic, using their own knowledge and document-based information. Students regularly write essays and take assessments in class that mirror the Gateway format. This experience helps develop proficiency in content knowledge and writing skills required for college, career, and citizenship. To assist students, GCPS offers additional resources, tutorials, and practice opportunities. While most students are successful on their first try, those who are not have additional opportunities to take and pass the test.

2016–17 Results: Advanced Placement (AP) Exams

Advanced Placement (AP) courses are challenging, college-level classes taught by specially trained high school teachers. Students have the option of taking an AP exam at the end of the school year. Many colleges award credit for passing the exams or allow a student to exempt certain courses. The table below shows the percentage of students who took an AP class at North Gwinnett High, compared to the county average. The chart also shows the percentage of optional, course-specific AP exams taken, as well as the percentage of test-takers who scored 3 or better on a 5-point scale on one or more AP exams. In 2016–17, 15.4% of courses taken at North Gwinnett were AP courses, compared to 10.1% at all GCPS high schools.

AP Percentages	2014–15		2015–16		2016–17
	North Gwinnett	GCPS	North Gwinnett	GCPS	North Gwinnett	GCPS

% Test-Takers Who Scored 3+	73.7	60.3	76.0	61.5	75.3	62.5

2016–17 Graduation Rate Information

The Graduation Rate is calculated using the number of students who begin 9th grade at the same time and graduate within four years with a regular education diploma. Students who take longer than four years to complete high school are not considered on-time graduates for the purpose of graduation rates, but they are not considered dropouts either. Additional students in the cohort will go on to graduate with a full diploma in their 5th year. Data shows that large numbers of students moving in during high school who are behind can have a negative impact on a school's graduation rate, just as having students move who can't be accounted for affects the rate. A number of GCPS initiatives— Credit Recovery, Online Campus courses, 7th period classes at Phoenix High, and summer school— offer students more opportunities to get and stay on pace for on-time graduation. GCPS is working to ensure that all students graduate, even if some students need more time to do so, and that all students are college- and career-ready.

Graduation Rate (2014 to 2017)

	2014	2015	2016	2017
North Gwinnett	93%	93%	96%	96%
GCPS	75%	78%	80%	81%
Georgia	73%	79%	79%	81%

2016–17 State Results: End of Course (EOC) Assessments

The comprehensive Georgia Milestones Assessment System measures how well students have learned the knowledge and skills outlined in the state content standards for English language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies. High school students took an End of Course (EOC) assessment for courses designated by the State Board of Education. The higher bar for student proficiency set by Milestones is aimed at better preparing students for college and career and providing a more realistic picture of academic progress. The results factor in as 20% of a student's second-semester grade in the high school courses tested.

Percentage of End of Course Tests scored Proficient/Distinguished

2016–17 State Reporting: Georgia's College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI)

College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI) is Georgia's statewide accountability system. CCRPI assesses how well students are prepared for college and careers and ensures that schools are focused on improving achievement among all students.

The index measures progress on accountability indicators such as content mastery, student attendance, and preparation for the next school level or college work. Schools earn CCRPI points based on indicators that vary by grade and school level and align with measures of college- and career-readiness. For 2016–17, schools may earn up to a set number of points in three main categories (achievement, progress, and achievement gap), for a total of 100 possible points, with an additional 10 possible challenge points.

At the high school level, schools earn CCRPI achievement points tied to a number of factors, including the percentages of students meeting or exceeding standards on state assessments, the percentage of students reading at grade level, the percentage of students missing six or fewer days during the school year, the percentage of graduates completing a career pathway, the percentage of college-ready graduates, the percentage of graduates earning college credits, the percentage of students scoring in the Proficient Learner or Distinguished Learner achievement levels on the Georgia Milestones assessments, and the four- and five-year graduation rates.

Progress points are tied to the level of academic progress students make from year to year, while achievement gap points are earned as schools work to close the gaps between student subgroups. Challenge points reflect a school's participation levels and achievement results for students with economic disadvantages (ED), English learners (EL), and students with disabilities (SWD). Points also may be earned for advanced academic work of a school's graduates, such as the percentage of seniors earning physics credit, earning three or more credits in the same world language, or completing work-based learning or a capstone project. In addition, schools in which teachers use data for planning individualized instruction and those with STEM certification may earn extra points as well. Innovative practices with demonstrated achievement gains and interventions that result in a positive school climate also may earn challenge points.

Under CCRPI, schools are awarded star ratings in two areas— school climate and financial efficiency— using on a five-star scale. Ratings range from a half-star to five stars. The School Climate rating takes into account discipline and attendance data as well as perceptions of the quality and character of the school and its learning environment. The Financial Efficiency rating is a measure that compares a school's spending per student to the overall academic performance of its students. The rating is calculated using three-year averages of spending and CCRPI scores. The School Climate and Financial Efficiency ratings for 2016–17 were not published at the time 2017 CCRPI results were released in fall.
